Welcome

Dear colleagues,

Thank you for joining us for the first Vienna Opera Lab.

Over two days, the singers, chosen from more than 100 applicants, have worked in masterclasses, workshops, coachings and roundtables. Today they bring what they have learned into the audition, in front of all of you, some of whom have travelled far to be here.

We selected singers who are either starting out or already established, and who have the potential to develop their careers. If possible, we would be very grateful if you could give them some feedback after the audition, so that every singer leaves with information they would otherwise not have had.

Above all, we want the Lab to be a safe space for artists and casting professionals alike. We hope every singer will be heard with an open mind and with respect. After all, talent sometimes just needs an opportunity.

Thank you for your time, your attention and your openness today. We hope you discover voices you will want to hear again, and that you leave the Lab with new names on your list and a few new friends.

With warm regards,

Le Monde* 2025 "Album Pick of the Year"/ N°1 Top 5, Sélection Pierre Gervasoni (26/12/25)

« Voix chaleureuse avec des incandescences de braise, projection multipolaire, vibrato infinitésimal, Anne-Lise Polchlopek incarne la « mezzo » dans toute sa splendeur, lyrique et dramatique. A l'aise dans tous les genres du répertoire classique, des mélodies (Fauré, Messiaen) aux opéras (Mozart, Bizet), elle habite chaque rôle avec un vécu rare à son âge. La chanson (Polnareff, Brel) trouve aussi sa place dans ce disque qui s'achève avec le célèbre Gracias a la vida (1966), de Violeta Parra. »

"With a warm voice glowing like embers, multi-polar projection, and a infinitesimal vibrato, Anne-Lise Polchlopek embodies the mezzo-soprano voice in all its lyrical and dramatic splendor. At ease across the entire classical repertoire — from art songs (Fauré, Messiaen) to opera (Mozart, Bizet) — she inhabits each role with a depth of lived experience rare for someone of her age. Popular song (Polnareff, Brel) also finds a place on this album, which concludes with the famous "Gracias a la vida" (1966) by Violeta Parra."

The Carmen case*, Soh/Bizet/Lacroix / Conductor : Lucie Leguay
To come : Opéra de Dijon (Mars 2027) ; Opéra Nantes Angers (dec 2026) Opéra de Limoges (april 2025)
Opéra National de Bordeaux (Jan 2024) ; Grand Théâtre de Luxembourg (Jan 2024) ; TAP Poitiers (May 2023/ création)

« Anne-Lise Polchlopek est une Carmen on ne peut plus crédible, à la voix sonore, au tempérament de feu. »
"Anne-Lise Polchlopek is an utterly convincing Carmen, with a resonant voice and a fiery temperament."
Opéra Magazine*, Christian Wasselin, 31/01/24

« Au final, c'est Carmen, encore et toujours, qui triomphe grâce [...] à Anne-Lise Polchlopek – elle a les notes, le cran et la liberté, vocale et scénique, de l'emploi. Ce n'est que justice ! »
"In the end, it is Carmen—always and ever—who triumphs, thanks to Anne-Lise Polchlopek, who possesses the notes, the grit, and the freedom—both vocal and theatrical—that the role demands. It is only fitting! "
Diapason Magazine, Benoît Fauchet, 26/01/24

La Belle Hélène*, Offenbach/ Opéra de Toulon (Mai 2025)/ Conductor : Romain Dumas

« La distribution, jeune, et où tous sauf Ménélas sont en prise de rôle, se montre d'une implication scénique sans faille. Se détache la superbe Hélène d'Anne-Lise Polchlopek, impressionnante par sa stature comme par son beau mezzo dense et puissant, sachant s'alléger pour se faire insinuant ou voluptueux, et se plier, avec un second degré réjouissant, aux virtuosités (trilles, vocalises et aigus fulgurants compris) du fameux « Ô ciel ! L'homme à la pomme ».

"The cast—young, and with every performer except the one playing Menelaus taking on their role for the first time—demonstrates an unfailing level of stage commitment. Standing out is Anne-Lise Polchlopek's superb Helen; she is impressive both in her physical presence and in the quality of her rich, powerful mezzo-soprano voice—a voice capable of becoming light, insinuating, or voluptuous by turns. With a delightful sense of irony, she also navigates the virtuosic demands—including trills, vocal runs, and dazzling high notes—of the famous number "Ô ciel ! L'homme à la pomme." "
Opéra Magazine*, par Thierry Guyenne, 13/05/2025
